BIG NEWS!!!

My big sister and her husband are having a baby! I am so happy for them and can't wait to be an uncle. They have been together for five years and are finally ready to expand their family. I have known since Easter but was not allowed to share this exciting news before they made it official themselves.

I couldn't be more proud of them and wish them the best as they take on the new challenge of being parents very, very soon. The expected date is the 13th of October, which means I won't be home for the birth since I'll be leaving in late August. This has been a hard pill to swallow, but I knew there would be sacrifices when I decided to go on missions. I just didn't think they would come so soon. Praying for them and their journey ahead.
