

What else have I done?

I spent some quality time with some of my best mates to celebrate our ten-year anniversary since starting boarding school. We had a blast, spending a lot of time playing board games and watching football, but most importantly, jumping in the pool and relaxing in the sauna. I'm going to miss them a bunch, and it really hit me while we were at the summerhouse that this is real. I'm actually going to be a missionary in another country, not knowing when I will see them again or be back in Denmark. However, knowing I have their full support means the world to me. I'm blessed to have such a wonderful group of mates.

Work is a bit of a different story. I've had to take a break due to overloading my right shoulder. The pain is currently too much to bear, so I am on leave until it gets better. Prayers for this would be much appreciated, as working the last couple of weeks would help immensely with funding the outreach phase. I'm not too down about it, though, since I can now fully tune into what the Lord has planned for me in COS and get prepared to leave Denmark.

If you still want to support me, I would deeply appreciate it, as I am still on a tight budget. Thank you to everyone who is with me on this journey, and God bless you all.
